TELEGRAMS SUPPORT IKE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House is receiving a heavy flow of telegrams about the collapse of the summit conference.

Acting assistant press secretary Wayne Hawks said the messages were "overwhelmingly" in support of President Eisenhower.

Prospective Bear Paws

To Meet Today at 3 p.m.

The Bear Paws will have a meeting for prospective members at 3 p.m. today in the Yellowstone Room.

All prospective members are to be at the meeting, Denis Adams, president said. Interscholastic duties will be explained.

Application forms for membership will be distributed Saturday Adams said.

CB Alters ASMSU By-Laws, Learns of 'Oklahoma!' Profit

Central Board, in a joint meeting last night, approved four proposed by-laws changes, received the proposed budget for 1960-61 for $158,100 for the purpose of further study and learned that the 1960 All-School Show would conclude with a profit for the first time in its history.

The by-laws changes were presented by Paul Ulrich and Howie Hansen, acting in their former positions as junior delegate and business manager.

By-Laws Changes

The changes consisted of requiring membership on Planning Committee to be preferably members of Central Board. The duties of this committee would be to consider long range plans for co-ordination of ASMSU activities and submit a semi-monthly report.

The second change allowed for an area chairman to be in charge of a Public Relations Travel Fund who would administer the monies and work with the groups in covering the state adequately.

Salary increases for $10 were approved for the editor, business manager and sports editor of the Montana Kaimin. Five dollar increases were approved for the associate editors.

Assistants Approved

The procurement of two assistants to the Photography Editor of the Sentinel was approved. Each will receive $10 per month for six months beginning October 1. They are required to have attended MSU for two quarters at the time of their selection.

1,500 to 2,000 persons at Khrushchev's farewell news conference was unprecedented treatment of a head of state. Khrushchev responded with a fist pounding display of pyrotechnics in which he reminded the crowd he was head of the powerful Soviet Union.

In a rapid series of angry statements and threats, Khrushchev renewed all of his insults of Eisenhower and the United States, threatened to renew nuclear bomb tests, to end the general disarmament talks, and to reopen the Berlin crisis at a time of his own choosing.

SWISS REJECT RED PROTEST

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—The Swiss government yesterday rejected as "insulting" a Soviet protest against the expulsion of two Russian Embassy officials from Switzerland on charges of spying.

The Swiss simultaneously rejected Russian demands for punishment of "those guilty of the gross provocation" and for assurances that it wouldn't happen again.

"The Soviet note contains allegations against Switzerland which are insulting and completely unfounded," the note said.

Examiners Not On Hand For State Board Session

HELENA (UPI)—The regular Wednesday session of the State Board of Examiners was passed over yesterday for lack of a quorum.

Lt. Gov. Paul Cannon, acting for Gov. J. Hugo Aronson, was not on hand at 10 a.m., usual starting time for the meeting.

As acting governor, it was up to Cannon, who is campaigning for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, to call the examiners into session.

However, Cannon did not advise the other two board members he would be late today and telephoned the governor's office at 10:10 a.m. to say he would report in as acting governor in an hour.

Secretary of State Frank Murray sent word to the Examiners' office that other duties would keep him from the meeting.

Hansen presented the budget for Central Board approval, but it was decided to vote on it at the Central Board dinner Sunday at the Pines.

The budget allocations for the year are based on a student activity fee of $51 per student with an estimated 3,100 students in attendance, Hansen explained. Of the total amount $93,000 will be allocated to athletics and $65,100 for activities.

In a report by David Browman, business manager for "Oklahoma!," it was learned that the All-School Show would not need any of the $1,600 allocated by Central Board, and that a $500 profit was expected. Browman was commended for his superior handling of the show.

Grimm Commended

Doug Grimm was also commended by a special vote of thanks by Central Board for his work as a publicity agent for both "Oklahoma!" and the University. Barbara Wheeler, Activities Board chairman, announced Roger Williams had been offered a contract for $2,000 to appear on campus for a concert Oct. 16.

Other tentative plans announced for next year included a report from Visiting Lecturers Committee which indicated that Arthur Schlesinger, professor of history at Harvard, and C. P. Snow, British novelist, would appear on campus.

In other business Jean Tate was selected as chairman of Publications Board for the rest of spring quarter.

On Your Day Off ...

The University is getting a breather from classes tomorrow for a very good reason. Students, in unprecedented number from 125 high schools, will invade for a weekend of tough competition.

It is vital that we, as a University, put out a welcome hand and a broad grin to these eager participants. They will be deeply interested in us for obvious reasons.

If you see a group wandering around looking a little lost, remember your early freshman days, and steer them the way they want to go. First impressions last and, you never know, they might be in your living group next year. —RYHO

The New Look in Languages

Do you hate languages with a passion? You have a new weapon to befuddle your professor, though you may not get very far.

The Air Force has developed a new-fangled language translator which will, at the rate of 40 words per minute, translate Russian to English. A new machine is being developed which may achieve a rate of 2,400 words per minute.

The New York Times reported that the present machine, with a 55,000 word and idiom vocabulary, produces a rough, but meaningful translation of newspaper, documents and anything which is written.

The new machine will have an expected 500,000 word and idiom vocabulary—more than ten times as extensive as that of the average college graduate.

This does not speak very well for the college graduate. Furthermore, the present "robot" will spit out other languages by substituting 10-inch glass discs, which are scanned by an electronic beam.

The machine does not produce very good grammar, but this will be improved. Similarly, the college graduate does not produce very good Russian grammar, but can this be improved?

Before we run the language department off campus, perhaps we should point out that no machine exists that will translate spoken Russian. But you never know. —RYHO

U Museum Given Bolo Knife, Spear From Pacific Area

Gunnery Sgt. Richard Seaman of the U. S. Marine Corps has presented the University Museum with a bolo knife from Taiwan and a Philippine spear. Sergeant Seaman, whose family lives in Missoula, recently returned from the Pacific area.

Last year, Sergeant Seaman gave the museum a Grecian vase dating back to the third or fourth century A.D. He acquired the vase from a fisherman who found it in the remains of a sunken Greek ship in the Mediterranean Sea.

The museum also has a 19th century dining cabinet on display, loaned by Mrs. William Curran of Missoula. At the present time the glass-front cabinet contains a mustache cup display.

Approximately 400 people visited the museum in April. This is the largest number of visitors in one month in the history of the museum, Robert T. Turner, director of the museum, said.

Lodge Dining Hall Ready for Crowd

The University Food Service will prepare to feed approximately 300 high school visitors during Interscholastic, according to Gertrude Chamberlain, director of the food service.

The students will eat in the Lodge with University students Thursday evening, all three meals Friday, and breakfast and lunch on Saturday. Saturday dinner will be the Interscholastic barbecue, arranged by the Campus Visitation Committee and Traditions Board.

Dr. Schuster Clarifies Recent Address

To the Kaimin:

May I correct a misunderstanding of my talk at Planning Camp (still called habitually "Leadership Camp" despite Central Board action two years ago to change that horrible name)? I am much less concerned with cheating in tests than with plagiarism, signing one's name to themes or homework written by someone else, and other forms of dishonesty used to avoid thinking, reading and writing. Increase in these forms of dishonesty are, I believe, caused by the grade-directed attitudes of those students who want grades and a degree with a minimum of intellectual development. The key phrase of my talk was "the grade-directed smog," not the phrase repeated several times in the Kaimin, "the smog of dishonesty." I regret the shift of emphasis in Tuesday's Kaimin report because I think we can work more effectively to re-establish personal integrity, where it has been lost, if we focus on the source of the dishonesty, which, as I see it, is the villainous notion that grades and the degree make a man. My plea is that individuals and groups (including the Greek letter houses which frequently function as organized grade-directed smog raisers) reflect on the status of grades as means, not ends, and raise the level of honesty by using their university well.

Incidentally, would the Kaimin explain why it so frequently happens that Kaimin-articles emphasize in the headlines some subordinate theme, mentioned merely en passant by a speaker? Since a copy of my talk was given, at his request, to a Kaimin reporter, could I not expect a headline which would echo the main point of the talk? In my loyalty and pride in M.S.U., I was chagrined to see a headline about "cheating at M.S.U.," and further chagrined to note that no mention was made of the parts of my talk in which I suggested that the grade-directed smog is less thick here than in many large state universities, that we have a better chance of dispelling it than have the larger institutions, and that if we do we may well become a center of envious attention in the American academic world.

Writers' Session To Begin Tuesday

The 1960 Montana State University Writer's Conference will be held next Tuesday through Saturday. Registration will be Tuesday in the Lodge lobby, Jack Barsness, director, said.

He said that any person who is not registered for the conference may attend the banquet Friday evening at 6:30. Tickets for the banquet, which will be held in the Territorial Room of the Lodge, may be purchased for $2.50 at the Lodge desk up until 5 p.m. Wednesday, Mr. Barsness said.

SENIORS URGED TO RETURN ALUMNI DIRECTORY CARDS

Graduating students are urged to complete and return their permanent alumni directory cards as soon as possible, Mrs. Virginia R. Golden, alumni news editor, said.

The directory cards are the chief means of keeping track of alumni, Mrs. Golden said. Cards were sent to all seniors.

Mrs. Golden also urged seniors to take note of the special authorization form included with the card. By completing the form, a senior may transfer $5 from his fee deposit to the Alumni Association for a three year membership. This would be a saving of $4, Mrs. Golden said. Alumni Association dues are ordinarily $3 per year.

Dormitory Head To Retire in June

Mrs. Vera S. Rimel, head resident of Turner Hall, has been granted retirement effective June 30, according to word received from the Board of Regents.

Mrs. Rimel came to the University in 1943 and was housemother and manager in one of the fraternity houses that was being used to house women students.

After the war, Mrs. Rimel became social director of Corbin Hall, later social director of Turner Hall, and in 1949, head resident of Turner Hall.

She will assume another position after her retirement, but wished to make no comment on the nature of the new job.

Other members attending were Beverly Anderson, William Crawford, Konnie Feig, Louise Cooper, James Madison and Dugdale.

Other business faculty members attending were Alvild Martinson, assistant professor; Richard C. McAllister, assistant professor; John Wright, professor; and Donald Emblem, professor.

Placement Center To Remain Open Friday, Saturday

The Placement Center will remain open this Friday and Saturday during the Interscholastic meet. Mrs. Maxine Wilson, placement officer, said the placement center will be open because many high school superintendents will interview prospective teachers at this time.

Mrs. Wilson said that all interested graduating seniors should contact the placement office before Friday. She said that the placement center has no way of knowing how many superintendents will visit the center, nor at what time. For this reason, she said, all graduating seniors interested in teaching positions should keep in close contact with the placement center.

FREE TV TIME OPPOSED BY NIXON, HOOVER, DEWEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon, former Pres. Herbert Hoover and Thomas E. Dewey strongly opposed a bill yesterday to require free TV time for election-year debates between presidential candidates.

Opposition was also voiced by Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

In hearing before a Senate commerce subcommittee, Stanton said CBS was prepared to provide one hour of viewing time a week for debates and discussions during the coming campaign, if present laws were modified.

Shows to be Given By TV Workshop

The University television workshop will produce shows for visiting high school students at the television studios in the Women's Gym tomorrow and Saturday.

The shows, directed by John Honey, will include a dance band and, tentatively, an appearance by Patti Jo Shaw, National Miss Wool of 1960. Miss Shaw is a sophomore journalism major.

Erling Jorgensen, director of the studios, said that the shows were being produced to enable high school students to become familiar with the Radio-TV curriculum.

EUROPE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

Summer vacation is just around the corner, and naturally all of you are going to Europe. Perhaps I can offer a handy tip or two. (I must confess I have never been to Europe myself, but I eat a lot of Scotch broth and French dressing, so I am not entirely without qualification.)

First let me say that no trip to Europe is complete without a visit to England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Lichtenstein, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Russia, Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, Crete, Sardinia, Sicily, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Lapland, and Andorra.

Let us take up these countries in order. First, England.

The capital of England is London—or Liverpool, as it is sometimes called. There are many interesting things to see in London—chiefly, the changing of the guards. The guards are changed daily. The old ones are thrown away.

Another "must" while in London is a visit to Buckingham Palace. Frequently in the afternoons Her Majesty the Queen comes out on the balcony of the palace and waves to her loyal subjects below. The loyal subjects wave back at the Queen. However, they only continue to wave as long as Her Majesty is waving. This of course is the origin of wave lengths from which we have derived numerous benefits including radio, television and the A&P Gypsies.

Be sure also when you are in London to visit the palace of the Duke of Marlborough. Marlborough is spelled Marlborough, but pronounced Marlboro. English spelling is very quaint but terribly disorganized. The late George Bernard Shaw, author of Jo's Boys, fought all his life to simplify English spelling. He once asked a friend, "What does g-h-o-t-i spell?" The friend pondered a bit and replied, "Goatee." Shaw sniggered. "Pshaw," said Shaw. "G-h-o-t-i does not spell goatee. It spells fish. Gh as in enough, o as in women, ti as in motion."

It must be remembered, however, that Shaw was a vegetarian—which, all in all, was probably a good thing. As Disraeli once remarked to Guy Fawkes, "If Shaw were not a vegetarian, no lamb chop in London would be safe."

But I digress. We were speaking of the palace of the Duke of Marlborough—or Marlboro, as it is called in the United States. It is called Marlboro by every smoker who knows flavor did not go out when filters came in. Be sure you are well supplied with Marlboros when you make your trip abroad. After a long, tiring day of sightseeing, there is nothing so welcome as a fine, flavorful Marlboro and a foot bath with hot Epsom salts.

Epsom salts can be obtained in England at Epsom Downs. Kensington salts can be obtained at Kensington Gardens, Albert salts can be obtained at Albert Hall, Hyde salts can be obtained at Hyde Park, and the crown jewels can be obtained at the Tower of London.

Well sir, now you know all you need to know about England. Next week we will visit the Land of the Midnight Sun—France.

© 1960 Max Shulman

And you also know all you need to know about smoking: Marlboro, if you want the best of the filter cigarettes—Philip Morris if you want the best of the unfiltered cigarettes.
